The bobcat dealer said this machine was always brought in for service. I say its supposedly had an easier life as the owner said a lot of the hours were spent idling outside at night during snowplow season. On nights where the crews were out plowing all night, they would just leave it running outside all night to load sand in the plow trucks.

Bobcat S250 Specifications - One Source
Best all around bobcat i think is the S250. Own 2 of them and they will do just about everything you want them to and more. And the longer wheel base really helps with not getting stuck as easy as the s185. Its always better to have more machine then you want then less. S330- How do you like your s330? Just rolled over 300 hours on ours.
