Frederica by Georgette Heyer - Goodreads

Frederica is a Regency romance novel by Georgette Heyer. The story is set in 1818. The plot is typical of several later Heyer romances in counterpointing the courtships of an older and a younger couple, with variation provided by the antics of Frederica's younger brothers and their boisterous mongrel.

Frederica (novel) - Wikipedia

Frederica is, for Heyer, the sort of woman she most admires, proud and self-reliant, level-headed and intelligent, a woman who simply rolls up her sleeves and takes care of everyone and everything around her. Alverstoke lives in a world of aristocratic, vain, self-indulgent women, and he's never really met anyone like her.

Frederica (Regency Romances): Heyer, Georgette ...

In its essentials, Frederica is a simple story. Vernon Dauntry, the Marquis of Alverstoke, is an elegant aristocrat, wealthy and exceedingly selfish, a character out of the Regency Heyer thoroughly understands. Alverstoke, at thirty-seven, is a confirmed bachelor, bored silly by anyone or anything that doesn't offer him self-indulgence.

The author makes Frederica captivating by giving her the witty self-aware lines of a genuine human being. She is the most down-to-earth Heyer heroine, a loving big sister looking out for her siblings. The Marquis of Alverstoke is a great character, a distant cynical man brought undone by Frederica's brothers.
